

Committee Approves Closed Hearings By A 12 to 9 Vote

Secretary Hull Will Probably Be First Witness Before Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—With opponents crying "gag rule," the Senate foreign relations committee voted 12 to 9 today to hold closed hearings, beginning tomorrow, on the House approved ship arm- ing bill.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the committee had voted to conclude the hearings at 5 p.m. Friday. He added that Secretary of State Hull probably would be the first witness.

Asserting that the procedure was "gag rule," Senator LaFol- lette (Prog.-Wis.) told reporters that opponents of the legislation had been denied a right to pre- sent all of the witnesses they wished to be heard because of the time limitation.

Senator Clark (D-Mo.) said he had served notice in the meeting that he would not be bound by any rules of secrecy and would feel free to discuss publicly the testimony that was given behind closed doors.

Motion by Glass

The 12 to 9 vote came on a motion by Senator Glass (D-Va.) for closed hearings.

Favoring the motion were Sen- ators Connally, George (D-Ga.), Wagner (D-N.Y.), Thomas (D-Utah), Murray (D-Mont.), Pepp- er (D-Fla.), Green (D-R.I.), Barkley (D-Ky.), Guffey (D-Pa.), Glass, Lee (D-Okl.) and Tun- nell (D-DeL.). George and Wag- ner were absent but voted by proxy.

Opposed were Senators Gillette (D-Ia.), Clark (D-Mo.), Johnson (D-Calif.), Capper (R-Kan.), La- Follette, Vandenberg (R-Mich.), White (R-Me.), Shipstead (R-Minn.) and Nye (R-N.D.).

Subsequently, Clark moved that since the hearings were not to be public that no hearings be held. The committee voted this down, 14 to 7, with White and Gillette shifting to the majority.

Republicans Want Repeal

A group of Republican senators, actively backed by Wendell L. Willkie, were reported ready to- day to demand outright repeal of the Neutrality Act.

Such a demand would impart a bi-partisan character to the com- plete repeal movement, for Demo- cratic senators Glass (Va.), Pepp- er (Fla.), and others already have announced that they would work to wipe the legislation off the books in the forthcoming test.

Leaders of the Republican re- peal group in the Senate were reported reliably to be Senator Austin (R-Vt.), the assistant mi- nority leader, Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) and Senator Gurney (R-S.D.).

Discussed Issues

Informants said they had dis- cussed the neutrality issue with Willkie and had agreed with him that the party should take ag- gressive leadership in revision of the present statute.

Willkie, 1940 GOP presidential nominee, has urged repeatedly that the Republican party stand for "internationalism" rather than "isolationism."

It will be several days before the Neutrality Act revision reaches the Senate floor for full dress debate, and the legislative out- look was complicated by a new imponderable—the casualty list of missing and injured which the U. S. Destroyer Kearny reported last night after surviving a tor- pedo attack by a submarine, "un- doubtedly German," in the North Atlantic near Iceland. There were no immediate forecasts as to how these navy losses would affect the Senate's present attitude to- ward Neutrality Act revision.

Regular Procedure Followed

The Senate Foreign Relations committee started formal con- sideration of the revision ques-

Food Program For Nation Now Being Prepared For Days Ahead

By STEPHEN McDONOUGH
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—America's experts on nutrition were told today that food not only can win the war but also will de- velop a superior American people.

Miss Mary I. Barber, Battle Creek, Mich., president of the American Dietetic Association, said the nation for the first time in its history is embarking on a coordinated nutritional program aimed at providing an optimum amount of food of the right kind for all of America's 130,000,000 people.

She spoke at the opening ses- sion of the Association's 24th an- nual meeting.

Mapping Out Program

Miss Barber said officials of the association already are working closely with leaders in nutrition in mapping out a food program for the nation in the trying days to come.

Among those assisting in the work are Surgeon General Thomas Parran of the U. S. Public Health Service, Dr. M. L. Wilson, extension director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Dr. Russell M. Wilder of the Na- tional Research Council.

"The United States army is do- ing a good nutrition job for se- lectees, but this is only part of the health program connected with national defense," she said.

Hoover Pleads For Food For The Children

Says Germany Won't Lose From Food Shortage

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Germans will not lose this war from a shortage of food, Herbert Hoover said last night in an ap- peal for the American govern- ment to lead the way in feeding millions of starving children in Nazi-invaded democracies of Europe.

In an address prepared for a nationwide (Mutual) broadcast (6 p.m. CST), the former presi- dent declared:

"I do not believe it would make the slightest difference in the military outcome of this war if we assured food to the needy among the whole 40,000,000 democratic children in Europe. And eminent soldiers agree with me."

Hit State Department

Hoover, chairman of the Na- tional Committee on Food For The Small Democracies, struck at the State Department in discussing congressional action last spring on initiating negotiations for an in- ternational solution. He said the resolution was signed by 37 senators, endorsed by a majority of the House members and backed by some 6,000 public organiza- tions. Declaring the resolution represented the voice of at least 20,000,000 people, Hoover added:

"Surely such an expression of American compassion deserves more adequate attention from our government than to be dismissed by a curt letter from our State Department."

Mentions Responsibility

Regarding responsibility for the food shortage, Hoover said:

"It is not enough to plead in- ternational law. I agree Germany has the moral responsibility to feed them. There is a vague

11 Lives Lost, 10 Injured

Wounded Ship Makes Way To Unnamed Port And Reports Casualties

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Capital was jolted today by the news that the torpedo which hit the U. S. S. Kearny took a toll of 21 casualties—10 injured and 11 listed as 'missing', but believed dead.

The Navy formally iden- tified the attacker as "a submarine, undoubtedly German," but this detail of the official announcement was momentarily overshadowed by the unlooked for disclosure that the Atlantic fleet has sustained its first personnel losses.

When the torpedoing of the new 1,630-ton destroyer was first made known Friday, the navy's communique said "no casualties were indicated" and relief tem- pered the capital's reaction to the incident. Last night, however, the navy received further infor- mation—the wounded Kearny had made her way to an undis- closed port and reported her 21 casualties.

It was the first time since Jap- anese warplanes bombed and ma- chine gunned the U. S. gunboat Panay on the Yangtze river in China that a unit of the navy has had losses due to belligerent action. The toll in the Panay bombing in December 1937, was 2 dead and 43 injured.

Announcement Meager

The navy's announcement last night was almost as meager as the original communique on the torpedoing. It volunteered no de- tails on why the 11 men were considered "missing," or on the nature of the injuries of the other 10. The only amplification was that one man was critically injured, one seriously injured, and eight had minor injuries.

The character of the encounter between the Kearny and the sub- marine, however, led informed quarters to write off the missing as dead. It was their belief that the men either had been blown out of the ship when the torpedo exploded, or else that they were trapped when watertight bulk- heads were closed after the ship had been hit.

May Be Trapped

One possibility suggested by men familiar with the destroyer's construction was that some of the missing men might have been trapped in a flooded engine room compartment, with a bare chance for survival.

These compartments may be entered only from the top deck. In event of emergency, such as a torpedo explosion, damaged com- partments are quickly sealed by machinery from the rest of the ship.

Men might keep their heads above water, under favorable

Checking State Drivers' Licenses

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The state started a campaign today to collect drivers' license fees from and estimated 150,000 Missouri motorists whose permits have expired.

The highway patrol, at the re- quest of the motor vehicle regis- tration, will begin stopping mot- orists and warning them if they have no driving licenses or if their permits have expired.

The permits, good for two years, first required in the fall of 1937, so most of them expire in the autumn of odd-numbered years.

Roosevelt Calls Meeting To Consider Aid To Russia

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A conference on help for Russia was scheduled by Presi- dent Roosevelt today with W. Averell Harriman, head of his mission to Moscow, and Harry L. Hopkins, his supervisor of lease- lend operations.

Originally the chief executive had planned to confer with Har- riman after he returned to Wash- ington tomorrow. Hopkins, how- ever, spent Saturday night at Harriman's home at Arden, N. Y., and then returned to Hyde Park, where he was a week-end guest of the President.

There was no denial in White House quarters that the prelimi- nary, second hand report which Harriman submitted to Mr. Roosevelt through Hopkins was of sufficient importance to war- rant the arrangements for today's parley.

The President, through his se- cretariat, informed reporters they need expect no statement follow- ing the conference.

Lunching With President

Harriman and Hopkins were having lunch with Mr. Roosevelt. Harriman planned to fly to Wash- ington in a service plane and con- sult officials of the state, war and navy departments, then see the chief executive again tomor- row.

Harriman, who was the chair- man of the American delegation which conferred with Russian and British missions in Moscow on Soviet armament requirements, reached the United States by plane Saturday and went to his home at Arden.

No details of the accident have been learned here.

Mrs. Shepard went to Kansas City Saturday evening and hoped to leave that night by plane for California, but she was unable to obtain reservation on a plane un- til Sunday morning, when she left. Her arrival in Ventura was therefore, after her son's death.

A message today said funeral services will be in Long Beach, Wednesday.

The deceased leaves his wife, to whom he has been married less than a year, his mother of Sedalia, and one sister, Mrs. John Queen, of Long Beach, Lee May, of Sedalia, is an uncle.

Ten To Twelve Inches Rain In Central Kansas

Section of Salina Residential District Flooded

SALINA, Kas., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A record flood threatened along the Smoky Hill river today, the aftermath of torrential rains which deluged all of central Kan- sas and disrupted rail and high- way travel in the area.

Southeastern Salina, a residen- tial area, was partially flooded to- day by water from Dry Creek which cut through an old chan- nel.

Rains of 10 and 12 inches fell along the Smoky Hill river valley in central Kansas Sunday and the rush of water was expected to put the stream out of its banks, possibly a new high. The river flooded last month, broke over an emergency dike here and inun- dated part of Salina.

The rainfall at the new dam near Kanopolis was reported at 12 inches. Lindsborg had 11.39 inches, Marquette more than 10 inches.

Creeks Flooded

All creeks in the area flooded, blocking innumerable roads. Herington, where an estimated 8 inches of rain fell, had nearly 8 feet of water in low streets be- tween the main business district and the Rock Island depot. The flood was from a small drainage creek. Eight or nine families were forced to leave their homes.

Dunlap, 20 miles up the Neosho river from Emporia, had its worst flood since 1933, with both rock and bluff creeks pour- ing water into town. Many houses were partly inundated and citizens rowed boats on the main street. Water was 3½ inches deep in the telephone office.

Rivers Rising

At Emporia Allen and Dow creeks blocked Highway 99. Both the Neosho and Cottonwood riv- ers were in their banks at Em- poria but were rising. Up the Cottonwood valley Diamond creek flooded and blocked U. S. 50s between Strong City and Elm- dale.

Down stream at Chanute the Neosho reached to 15 feet five inches today after spilling out in- to lowlands Saturday at 20½ feet.

Lindsborg reported the Smoky Hill up to 31.37 feet and still rising today. This was only 1.13 inches below the 1938 peak when the river sent a bad flood down the valley, inundating part of Salina. Lindsborg, on high ground, is not menaced but much farm land was covered, part of it for the second time this month.

Moscow Is Braced For The Impact Of German Forces 57 Miles Away

Hull Comments On Torpedoing Of The Kearny

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Secretary Hull today characterized the torpedoing of the United States Des- troyer Kearny as another in a series of incidents illustrat- ing Adolf Hitler's known and confessed effort to seize con- trol of the seas as well as the continents.

Hitler has notified all na- tions to keep their ships out of an area covering a large portion of the North Atlantic on penalty of having these ships sunk, Hull told his press conference, because he pro- poses to drive all other na- tions off the seas by intimi- dation.

If such intimidation were successful, the secretary con- tinued, he supposed Hitler then would want other na- tions to get off the earth.

The secretary of state's out- spoken denunciation of the attack on the Kearny follow- ed a navy announcement that 10 of the destroyer's crew had been injured and that 11 were "missing" and the direct charge that the attack was by "a submarine, undoubtedly German." The torpedoing represented the first person- nel losses suffered by the At- lantic fleet.

Asked whether the United States had made or was con- templating a diplomatic pro- test to Germany, Hull replied with asperity that one does not send diplomatic notes to international highwaymen.

Planned Surprise; Plane Crashed

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Official cause of the crash of an army observation plane and the death of its three occupants was declared today to have resulted from an attempt at concealment from ground forces in a mock surprise attack on the Fort Bliss anti-aircraft range.

The plane crashed in a can- yon 35 miles northeast of Las Cruces, N. M., a week ago today. It was not found until Saturday. Announcement was made by Major William A. Cahill, com- mander of Briggs Field, Fort Bliss, following an investigation by an army board of inquiry.

Had the wing of the plane passed two feet higher it would have cleared the side of Ash Canyon into which it crashed and burned, Mayor Cahill said. The pilot, he declared, apparently swung low into the canyon for conceal- ment and a down draft forced it into the canyon wall.

Joint funeral services were con- ducted yesterday for Second Lieutenant Willis Hunt of Blytheville, Ark., and C. S. Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., and Sgt. Rich- ard Lauck of Denver.

Third Explosion At San Jose

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Another explosion occurred to- day at the $10,000,000 permanent magnesium plant at Los Altos, the third since the defense production plant was put in operation and the second in three days.

At least two men were injured in today's mishap.

One man was killed and eight injured in an explosion last Sat- urday.

Three men lost their lives in an accident several weeks ago.

They Had A Reason

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two automobiles collided on the 155th street viaduct.

The drivers climbed out, argued heatedly for a few minutes. Then both walked away from the scene. Mystified witnesses won- dered why.

A police check of the licenses supplied the answer. Both cars were stolen.

Germany Continues To Deny That It Was Nazi Torpedo That Attacked Ship

(By The Associated Press)

Heightened tension in the far east, an increasingly grave situation for Russia and the controversy be- tween the United States and Germany over the torpedo- ing of the destroyer Kearny were today's outstanding developments in the war and threats of war girdling the earth.

Japan's new Premier, General Eiki Tojo, declar- ing that Japan had reached a crossroads in her destiny, called for "iron unity among all the fighting arms and the people to cope with the encirclement of Japan by foreign powers." Japan im- posed a drastic censorship on mail.

Negotiations for a united Pa- cific front composed of the United States, Britain, China, the Netherlands East Indies, Australia and New Zealand were reported in Canberra as complete.

A Chinese army spokesman estimated that Japan had massed the equivalent of 29 divisions in Manchukuo at Soviet Russia's Siberian "back door," and that three or four more divisions were enroute there.

Prepares For Impact

Moscow, under a state of siege proclaimed by Premier Stalin, braced for the impact of German forces only 57 miles away at one point.

The German high command said that new wedges had been driven into the Moscow defenses, with two more Red army groups wiped out, and that German sol- diers and their allies in southern Russia were sweeping anew to- ward the industrial Donets basin and Rostov, gateway to the oil riches of the Caucasus.

Germany stood on her denial that it was a German torpedo which last Friday ploughed into the destroyer Kearny off Iceland. From German-occupied terri- tories came new reports of un- rest and violence. The German commander of the Nantes region in occupied France was assassi- nated, Vichy reports said, and the Greek government in exile de- clared that 15,000 Greeks had died in "a series of burial massacres" by Bulgars.

Commandant Shot

The German commandant, Gen- eral Holtz, was shot near his office in the center of Nantes by two men who fired a shotgun and a pistol, then fled before a cor- don of police could surround the area.

Holtz was the highest German officer yet attacked in the occu- pied zone.

Authorized Germans expressed strong resentment of a short wave address yesterday by U. S. As- sistant Secretary of State Brecken- ridge Long in which the Ameri- can suggested that Germany, in calling on Italy for fighting men, might make of Italy "another Russia."

The Germans called it a low trick to intimate that Italy and Germany ever could be separated

The Washington Merry-go-Round

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Inner CIO circles are buzzing excitedly over a grapevine report that John L. Lewis is seriously considering ditching his isolationism and declaring for the Roosevelt policy of aid to Britain and Russia.

Hitch in the rumor is that it was "allowed to leak" by close Lewis henchmen, which may mean that there is more to it than meets the eye.

It might be a stratagem by Lewis to further his secret ambitions to recapture the CIO presidency. Or it might be a maneuver to avert a drubbing on the foreign issue at the CIO convention next month. Lewis' foes are quietly organizing for a showdown. Fearing a licking, he may be trying to lull them into dropping the plan.

Two things are definitely known:

1—That Lewis has issued orders to his satellites to pipe down on the foreign question. They are not to say anything or make any moves one way or the other. Previously they beat the isolationist drums in line with his lead.

2—Lewis had long talks with two British labor leaders who are visiting the United States. Pal to Pal

They were Will Lawther, president of the Mine Workers Federation, which corresponds to the United Mine Workers, Lewis' union, and Jack Jones, Welsh miner and novelist. These two were the first visiting British Laborites to confer with Lewis—a fact he pointedly called to their attention.

He told them he considered it a personal affront that Sir Walter Citrine, British Labor party leader, had not called on him when he was in the U. S. last spring. Citrine conferred with other CIO and AFL chiefs, but was advised not to see Lewis because John might interpret it as an effort to "propagandize" him.

(Insiders believe that one of the chief reasons behind Lewis' venomous hatred of Roosevelt is the fact that Lewis and his wife were never invited to dinner at the White House.)

Lewis was very cordial to both Britishers. He recited at length his grievances against the "British Empire," but sonorously declared that he was opposed to Fascism and did not favor a Nazi victory. He assured his visitors that he knew what that would mean to labor.

Lewis, of Welsh descent, was particularly friendly to Jones, to whom he said, "You and I can talk as one miner to another." Jones agreed with Lewis on the wrongdoings of the British Empire, but said that labor was making great social and economic changes in England and that after the war, conditions would be far different.

It was to Jones that Lewis gave the impression that he might declare for the "aid Britain and Russia" policy.

NOTE: Lewis was so pleased with Jones that he took him to lunch at the fashionable Carlton hotel, where many headline government leaders dine at noon. As Lewis and his guest were walking through the lobby, Lewis spotted Justice Felix Frankfurter, with whom he had once been on cordial terms but about whom recently he had done a lot of critical muttering. But this time, Lewis boomed out heartily, "Good morning, Mr. Justice. I want you to meet a friend of mine from England."

Old Stuff

Now that the navy's ban on news about damaged British warships in American ports has been lifted, it's no longer a secret that the H.M.S. Warspite, crippled in the Battle of Crete, is undergoing repairs at the Puget Sound Navy Yard. But the Warspite's gallant skipper, Capt. Douglas Fisher, is still chuckling over an experience he had with a Seattle newsman shortly after docking.

"What's your ship, Captain?" asked the reporter.

"Number 126," replied Fisher with a grin. (This is the repair request number of the Warspite.) "I'm sorry, but under the circumstances that's all I can tell you."

"That's okay, Captain," said the newsman. "I only asked you that question for conversational purposes. Everybody out here knows you're the Warspite. I knew you were going to put in here days before you arrived. Tell me something about the Battle of Crete."

NOTE: While on a sight-seeing tour of the capital with his host, Rep. Warren Magnuson of Washington, Fisher evinced a keen interest in the White House. "I didn't know the president lived where he works," he remarked.

Merry-Go-Round

Informed that defense officials want to use her famous legs to publicize non-silk stockings as soon as she has recovered from her fractured ankle, movie queen Marlene Dietrich sent back word that she stands ready, or will sit if preferred, for any patriotic purpose. . . . The trial of the Trotskyite leaders of the tough Minneapolis Teamsters Local 554, granted a charter several months ago by Denny Lewis, head of the CIO Construction Workers, will open today. The leftists will be tried on charges of "conspiring to overthrow the form of the U. S. government." One of the chief leaders, Grant Dunn, secretary of the union, suddenly committed suicide a week ago. He is the sixth of the union's chiefs to come to a violent end. . . . One subject that Speaker Sam Rayburn always is ready to talk about is his Texas ranch. "I like to be known as a rancher," he grins, "although I haven't got much to show for it." . . . Arkansas' bustling young Rep. Clyde Ellis has chalked up another victory for his proposed great Arkansas Valley power project. After winning the president's backing for placing control of the project under an independent authority, similar to TVA, Ellis got Roosevelt's approval for immediate action on a bill. Senator Josh Lee, militant Oklahoma New Dealer, has joined forces with Ellis and will sponsor the legislation in the Senate. . . . Undersecretary of Agriculture Paul Appleby is out of the running for the vacancy on the Federal Reserve Board he was so anxious to get. Most likely appointee is AAA Administrator Rudolph Evans, the first choice of FRB head Marriner Eccles. . . . Real star of ten members of the Argentine Chamber of Deputies now visiting the U. S. is Raul Damonte Taborda, young crusader who exposed Nazi operations in his country in a senatorial investigation.

Mail Bag

J. McC., CHICAGO—Senators Wheeler, Nye and the other members of Congress, who are stumped speaking for the America First Committee, are paid their expenses by the committee. Whether they also receive fees for their speeches is not known. The committee has steadfastly refused to divulge the source of its funds, how much it is spending, and for what. . . . Mrs. P. O., CHATTANOOGA—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold received $1,500 each for his three articles in the Reader's Digest. It is entirely within the law for government officials to write articles for pay. . . . STUDENT, LUBBOCK, TEX.—Tickets to the Gridiron club banquets are not purchasable. These are strictly invitation affairs. Only members of the club may bring guests.

Can We Hope It's True?

Not all reports from the governments-in-exile which are the only free representatives of millions of conquered Europeans are completely to be trusted. First, their sources of information cannot always be accurate; second, they naturally have a tendency to over-optimism toward their cause. Forgivable but inevitable.

However, here's one report which we earnestly hope is true. Vrij Nederland, Free Netherlands newspaper in London, reports that certain Dutch papers, on days when there were big meetings between Hitler, Mussolini and other "New Order" big shots, or when Hitler announces another big success in Russia, simply filled their main news pages with pictures of dogs.

If that's true, we'll bet that even the Germans found it doggone annoying.

When Self Comes Second

So many scoundrelly and bloody deeds going on in the world; so few, obscure and little recognized fine and decent acts! So it is a doubled pleasure to record this one:

Three faculty members of the Western Reserve University Medical School were awarded a $1,000 prize for having made the most important contribution to the study of high blood pressure published in any medical journal in the first half of 1941. Dr. Harry Goldblatt, Dr. Joseph R. Kahn, and Dr. Harry Weinstein were given the award by a poll of physicians all over the country.

They promptly ordered the check for the award made out to the university's medical research fund rather than to themselves. Unless these physicians are unusually situated, they could probably have used the money. But self came second, and research that will benefit others came first. If we could find 20 such incidents a day it would be a pleasure to record them.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 26, 1941.

Golden Text: Hebrews 3:12, 13. "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God. But exhort one another daily, while it is called 'Day.'"

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality" (1 Cor. 15:50, 53).

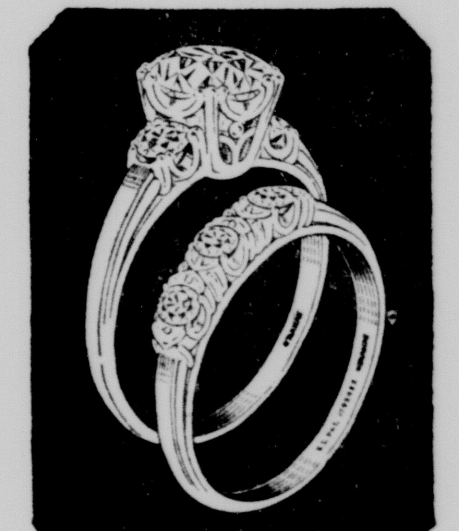

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." So we read in Ecclesiastes. As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change." (p.291).

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

BOWEL WORMS CAN'T HURT ME!

That's what YOU think!

Learn the truth! Nowadays it is easy for you or anybody, anywhere—to "catch" roundworms. And these ugly creatures can cause great distress inside you, without your even knowing what is wrong.

Use Jayne's Vermifuge to drive out roundworms before they can "get set" and make trouble. Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine; used by millions for over a century.

When you notice itching, itchy nose or seat, uneasy stomach, loss of weight—suspect roundworms—and yet Jayne's Vermifuge right away! It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. When no worms are there, it works merely as a mild laxative. Demand Jayne's Vermifuge! At all drug stores.

Platoons of telephone construction men stand ready to roll out in blue-gray Bell trucks to set poles...string wire...install switchboards.

They know that a call for shell fuses now is almost as urgent as a call for serum...that life and death somewhere may hang on the prompt arrival of a shipment of cotton...that spoken messages must carry through the clatter of mighty mill sheds...must cross vast industrial areas and leap the miles between cities.

They're doing a big job...these telephone men...and the telephone operators and repairmen who work with them. They race with your country's vital needs. They struggle to keep up with a demand for service greater than they have ever known before.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Moscow Braced For The Impact Of German Forces 57 Miles Away

and Fascist circles in Rome termed the speech "a propaganda move" made ridiculous by the "bond of alliance and ideals between the two nations."

Using Russian Resources
Dr. Walther Funk, German economic minister and Reichsbank president, accepting an honorary degree from the University of Rome, declared that Germany already had started using Russia's resources and predicted barter trade between axis-dominated Europe and American countries after the war.

He said that the war had nearly trebled German-Italian trade and that the British blockade, had been "finally broken."

The official German news agency, DNB, published an eye-witness account of a U-boat attack on a British North Atlantic convoy last week in which it said that one of the two destroyers claimed sunk apparently was one of the 50 such craft which the United States had traded with Britain for western hemisphere bases.

Speculation In Berlin
There had been speculation in Berlin as to whether the U-boat-convoy battle occurred in waters where the Kearny was torpedoed.

Torpedoing of the Kearny assumed a grimmer aspect today following the disclosure in Washington that 11 members of her crew were missing and 10 were injured—the first casualties incurred by the navy as a result of belligerent action since it undertook its North Atlantic patrol assignment.

The disclosure was made by the Navy Department in an announcement which formally identified the Kearny's attacker as "a submarine, undoubtedly German."

Stalin Issues Decree
Emphasizing the seriousness of the situation confronting Moscow was a decree by Russian Premier Joseph Stalin proclaiming a state of siege in the city.

The proclamation appealed to the Moscow population to lend all possible aid to the defending Red army, ordered summary execution of provocateurs and spies and placed all traffic under strict supervision.

The Russians reported that gigantic battles were raging on the two main approaches to the city—in the region of Mzhaisk and Maloyaroslavets, which are 57 miles airline west and 65 miles south of the city.

The Germans declared their armies had pierced strong Russian defenses at several points on the central front before Moscow, and said that fierce Soviet counterattacks had failed to pinch off the spearheads.

Army Groups Encircled

Two additional Red army groups were encircled and wiped out in the new German thrusts, dispatches from Berlin said, and an additional 7,000 Russian prisoners were reported added to the staggering total the Germans already claimed to have taken.

London sources said the pace of the Germans' grand offensive appeared to be abating compared with the first stages of the drive, started Oct. 2, but they found "no evidence that the weight of the assault is slowing up."

With snow covering the Russian planes on the central front weather conditions had become generally "unfavorable for active operations."

From a little talked of sector of the vast front—the northern part where the Finns are in action—there was word that the Finnish drive north from Petrozavodsk along the Murmansk-Leningrad railway skirting Lake Onega on the west was meeting fierce Russian resistance.

The official Communist newspaper Pravda declared that the Germans had lost nearly 4,000,000 in killed and wounded since the invasion started June 22 but "still these accursed locusts come on."

Pressmen's Union Has Picnic Sunday

Members of the Sedalia Printing Pressmen's Union and friends numbering about thirty-five, enjoyed a picnic at the Water Works Park Sunday afternoon. George Williams is president of the organization and Charles Laudenberger, secretary.

Members of the entertainment committee were William Clifford and Carl Rogers.

A lunch of barbecued meats and other edibles suitable for the occasion, was served. There were games, contests and singing, and such an enjoyable time was had that they decided to make it an annual affair.

Heavy Rainfall This Month

Ground Too Wet To Plant Wheat; Sunshine Needed

In Pettis county, since October 1, there has been 8.87 inches of rain which has caused some damage to fall wheat crops, and reduced the acreage of barley according to J. U. Morris, county extension agent.

According to Mr. Morris the ground has been too wet to plant wheat, and what is needed now is plenty of sunshine. The weather conditions have delayed the sowing of wheat, but with some warm weather it might be possible to get in some wheat before cold weather. Then there is a possible chance of the crop being lost due to sudden weather changes.

Although some barley has been planted the rain has prevented planting of barley, and at present it is almost too late to get in a crop. As it is, the rainy season has caused a drastic cut in acreage. The rain has on the other hand made good pasture.

Soy beans is another crop which has been damaged by the wet weather. It has especially been hard on the seed crop. Corn on the ground is beyond saving in many locations and hay stacks are turning green in some places.

Rain Saturday night amounted to .18 inches and from Sunday until this afternoon it amounted to .03 inches.

Temperature Sunday was 53 at 7 o'clock in the morning; 75 at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and 70 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. For today it was 62 at 7 o'clock this morning; 75 at 1 o'clock and 75 at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

ledge and training in educating their local communities to counteract the situation in which it has been estimated that more than 30,000,000 people in the United States are undernourished because of low incomes or malnourished for lack of knowledge of what to eat.

Reducing Affects Health
Miss Barber said dietitians might sponsor a nutrition campaign for girls and young women because "the craze for reducing has been carried to the point of affecting health in many instances" and while skinniness may be fashionable it is far from being healthful.

Nutritionists also have a big responsibility, she said, in educating "children of the poor and ignorant, also of the rich who have not realized the treasure of health" and must also begin coaching "older workers who may be so necessary in defense jobs."

"We claim that old age can be deferred—if not in years, in accomplishments—by adequate diet throughout all ages. This is our responsibility."

Named To Fill Vacancy On Faculty

Miss Christine Van Natta, teacher of grades 5 and 6 in the Houstonia school has been elected to fill the vacancy of Miss Elizabeth Parkhurst, teacher of English in the Houstonia high school. Miss Parkhurst resigned her position and was married to Maurice Bogard in San Antonio, Tex., October 11. Mrs. Earl Neef is substituting in the grade school in Miss Van Natta's place.

Names To Attorney General

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee to investigate un-American activities has given to Attorney General Biddle the names of 1,124 federal employees who Dies contends "have strong leanings toward Moscow."

would suggest to Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Naval Committee that it investigate the circumstances of the attack on the Kearny and ask the navy department for details. The navy furnished such a report on the Greer incident.

Senator Nye (R-ND.), author of a resolution which asked an investigation of the Greer encounter, told reporters he considered it essential that congress be given full information about the Kearny attack as soon as the navy department could obtain it.

tion today (meeting at 9:30 a.m. CST), taking up procedure on the House-approved legislation which would knock out the act's present prohibition against the arming of American merchant ships.

The ship-arming measure, passed by a House vote of 259 to 138 last week, is only one of the steps advocated by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) and other members of the Foreign Relations committee, who believe that Congress should eliminate the provision which now prevents American vessels from entering belligerent ports or designated combat areas.

Connally has said, however, that it might be more expeditious to pass the ship-arming bill at once and then take up additional repealer legislation.

Considering Bi-Partisan Move
The possibility of a bi-partisan move for doing the whole job at once jeopardized any plans for piecemeal consideration of revision along the lines Connally indicated. Accordingly Senate leaders may ask President Roosevelt this week to decide whether he is willing to accept a delay on the ship-arming legislation, while attempts are being made to broaden the pending House-approved resolution so that it would provide for scrapping the rest of the Neutrality Act's provisions.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), a leader in the Senate minority opposing administration foreign policy, told reporters he would welcome an effort to repeal the Neutrality Act completely. "That would bring the issue of peace or war out in the open where it should be," he said.

'Jake' Allen Dies In Jefferson City

Jacob W. "Jake" Allen, aged 45, of Jefferson City, died at St. Mary's hospital, that city, Sunday, of complications following an operation for appendicitis last Monday.

Mr. Allen had numerous friends in Sedalia, as he was a frequent visitor here, representing a paper company.

Mr. Allen, a son of the late J. D. Allen, former clerk of the Missouri Supreme court, he was widely known among newspaper circles, having represented a paper company for many years in Central Missouri. He was born at Butler, Mo., July 22, 1896, and moved to Jefferson City with his parents in 1910. He attended Missouri Military academy and the United States Military academy at West Point.

In the World War he was commissioned a first lieutenant in the 355th infantry, serving in France with that organization until severely wounded in the Argonne. His wounds were so serious that he had been reported killed in action. He was cited for gallantry in action as a result of the San Mihel and Argonne engagements.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edwina Wagner Allen; a daughter, Miss Virginia Allen, a student in the University of Missouri, and two brothers, William H. Allen, Kansas City lawyer and former assistant city counselor there, and R. D. Allen, newspaper publisher at Butler. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

In reply the board sent a telegram stating that reinstatement was "an operation which plainly can be accomplished within a very few days at the most if the union and the company accept the recommendations of the board in good faith and cooperate in an effort to carry them out promptly."

Refers To Executive Branch

The telegram added that the union had done so, but "because of the company's rejection of the recommendations, the board is compelled to refer the case to the executive branch of the government."

At Seattle, Wash., more than 600 AFL welders approved a decision by 177 craftsmen to resume work today at the Lake Washington Ship Yards, where a walk-out Friday caused by a jurisdictional controversy stopped work on five naval seaplane tenders.

The men left their jobs in protest against dismissal of one of their number who had declined to join an AFL boilermakers union.

Affiliated With Independents
At a mass meeting yesterday the welders were informed by their leaders that the Office of Production Management would consider their grievances against the AFL. They then voted to affiliate with the independent union of United Welders and Burners.

CIO's United Automobile Workers voted at Buffalo, N. Y., to authorize a strike at the Bell Aircraft Corporation's two warplane plants in Buffalo and Niagara Falls because of a stalemate in wage negotiations. They decided not to walk out, however, until "all possible means of arbitration have been exhausted."

Meeting At Pittsburgh

At Pittsburgh the Chamber of Commerce arranged a meeting with AFL officials and the U. S. Labor Department directed conciliator Charles R. Ward to seek negotiations in steps to avert a general strike next week.

Leading Stocks Up A Little

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Leading stocks tip toed over slightly even territory in today's market after a mild forenoon recovery swing failed to carry conviction.

A handful of rails, utilities, rubbers, oils and specialties pinned on advances of fractions to a point or so at the start. Declines of as much, though, were plentiful at the close and numerous issues were unchanged.

For the most part dealings were sluggish. A few big blocks of low priced stocks, however, put the day's turnover at around 700,000 shares.

Hoover Pleads For Food For The Children

legal responsibility. But the overpowering fact is Germany does not, as the result of the blockade, have the kind of food needed for these women and children.

"They will not feed them. That stark fact faces the world. And these helpless people cannot eat morals and international law."

"Those Americans who deny moral responsibility cannot deny the obligations of compassion and the self interest in the future of civilization. Is not the preservation of these children also a part of this responsibility?"

"Hitler cannot be defeated with armies of starving children."

In support of his contention that food supplies could be gotten into the countries, Hoover pointed out that Britain has relaxed its blockade in three instances—to ship food to its prisoners in Germany, to allow shipments in and out of Sweden and to permit Turkey to send food to Greece.

"Suppose the western democracies should place this problem in the hands of some one of the neutral governments of Europe for solution," Hoover said. "Suppose that neutral government was not able to make a satisfactory agreement with the German government. Then an effort would have been made which at least demonstrated the compassion and solicitude of the western world. There would be no hate stored against America for failure."

Effort Could Be Stopped
"Suppose the Germans did make such an agreement and should subsequently violate it, then at once the effort would be stopped. If they seized all the stocks of imported food they would not have secured a day's ration for Germany. And again the western democracies would have demonstrated their ideals to the world."

Defense Bond Quiz Corner

Q. Why will there be no temporary, intensive campaign for the sale of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps?

A. Because Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps are presented as a means to enable every citizen to carry out a consistent and continuous savings program, to be followed week by week and month by month, helping national defense and providing the saver with money for use in the future. The program is meant to be an extended savings effort—not a short-time money raising campaign.

Q. My husband buys a small Defense Savings Bond every pay day. Should I also invest in Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps?

A. When you do your daily shopping you can buy a Defense Savings Stamp with your change, and eventually have enough to turn in for a Defense Savings Bond.

Note — To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also Stamps are now on sale at retail stores.

SINCERE EFFORT BRINGS RESULTS

... in Brewing Industry's Clean Up or Close Up Program, says Missouri Editor

"When the Missouri Brewers' Association and Beer Distributors' Committee announced its self-regulation program nearly two years ago, I'll admit I had my fingers crossed," says Mr. Idol.

James D. Idol, Editor, Cass County Democrat, Harrisonville, Mo.

industry is important economically. It gives work to 32,000 Missourians. It adds $30,000,000 to incomes of the working people, thus helping all business. It contributes $1,169,914 in state and local taxes each year.

"The industry's determination to make beer retailing as wholesome as beer itself deserves the support of every right-thinking citizen. You can support the program by patronizing only the clean, decent beer retailers, and by reporting violations to law enforcement officers or to the committee."

Serial Story Murder In Paradise

By MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: School teacher Mary O'Connor's heart goes out to young Jennie Morris, left alone with a stern but kindly old Miss Holmes, maid, by the mysterious murder of her aunt, Miss Millie. This, and the earlier murder of handsome Herbert Cord, who had courted Jennie for two summers only to bring Margie Dixon to Paradise Lake this year as his fiancée, have the quiet resort agog. Miss Millie had been one of its oldest residents, along with innkeeper Chris Gordon. Maudie, Mary's mother, pooh-poohs the innkeeper's conclusion that gangster Stush Veretti murdered Cord, although reporter Dennis Flynn, an old flame of Mary's assigned to the case, is inclined to believe he did. Maudie discovered both bodies, and Mary and Dennis feel she knows more than she is revealing. Jennie tells Mary of a mysterious romance in Miss Millie's past. Then they talk of local editor Ted Palmer, obviously interested in Jennie.

CHRIS GORDON'S VISIT

CHAPTER XII

MAUDIE was getting back to her old self, but it didn't take too much coaxing to keep her in bed for another day. The past week had really given her enough thrills for a while and I guess she realized she wasn't as young and chipper as she would have liked to believe.

She still refused to discuss the finding of the boat and Miss Morris. "There's nothing more to tell," she answered tartly. "I've told you again and again all there is to tell." Denny and I didn't believe her.

She was abrupt with us both and became more petulant every time he reported new developments. The police in town had put Stush Veretti through a tough grilling, but there was still no confession. Additional people had been found who had seen him around the lake the evening of the crime—a gas station attendant, a lunch room clerk, and a farm boy who had given him directions. Denny said they'd undoubtedly hold him even though they hadn't found the gun that had fired the .32 slug into Herbert Cord's back.

To be sure, the murder of Miss Millie had, to put it mildly, thrown the Cord case into some confusion. The State Police felt they had things nearly solved until the second murder and then, Denny confessed, they were faced with two possibilities.

"There may be two separate and distinct killings. And coming at the same time and place may be just coincidence. Stush could still have rubbed Cord out, and then someone else put the K. O. on Miss Morris, or a nut is wandering around loose and knocked them both off."

Either possibility was unpleasant to contemplate and I wished something would happen to bring about a speedy solution. The second killing had resulted in a nice state of hysteria around the lake. The gloomy weather the past day hadn't helped people's nerves either.

THE cottagers were locking shutters and doors at night and carrying old-fashioned hunting guns on their nightly walks to and from bridge parties and the few picnics the younger set staged.

Things must be dull, I thought, when Chris Gordon came to the house with some mail which I hadn't gotten around to pick up that morning. I could imagine that the guests at the inn found the atmosphere anything but festive or vacation-gay, with police and reporters making it a headquarters.

"Heard your mother wasn't feeling so good after the other night," he said, handing me the letters and papers. "Thought it might be hard for you to get down and maybe there was something important in this stuff."

"Bills, probably," I said, "but it was nice of you to think of us. Won't you come in?" I didn't expect him to, but he took off his hat and followed me into the living room where we sat and talked a while. He seemed to have a hard time following the conversation and although it wasn't hot he kept wiping his nearly bald head with a wrinkled handkerchief.

"I suppose this hasn't helped your summer business, has it?" I was finding it hard to make conversation. He sat on the edge of the chair and looked around as though he expected a murderer to leap at him from every door.

"Been a long time since I was in this cottage," he said finally, when I'd thoroughly discussed the weather, the farm crops and the political situation. "I've seen a lot of cottages go up around here during the years. Wasn't much of a colony when I first came here."

"Was the Morris residence built when you first came?"

"That's one of the oldest 'round these parts," he said.

"And did you know Miss Morris—the old one, I mean—when she was a young woman?" I asked.

HE went off again into one of those abstracted streaks, but finally he seemed to remember that I had spoken. "Eh—Oh, yes, everyone knew Miss Millie around here." He reached for his hat and, taking one last mop at his head, stood up. "Anything we can do for you folks while you're here, just let us know. Always glad to oblige."

"Thanks. What with people being killed every night or so it's good to know the inn isn't too far away should one need help."

"Folks mustn't lose their heads," he warned solemnly.

"Someone around here seems glad to help do that," I said. He looked slightly shocked and went out to his car without looking back. Maudie was calling and I went to her room. She was sitting up in bed reading a magazine.

"What was that man doing here?"

"Inquiring after your health," I said. "He'd heard you were upset, and then, too, he brought the mail." I tossed it to her, but she didn't grab as usual, hunting for letters from the boys.

"Oh, so he brought the mail and came to inquire about me, did he? Now wasn't that considerate of him?"

"Why, yes, I thought so," I said. "And you needn't sound so sarcastic. But then that shows you're practically well enough to get up and start hunting for another good corpse."

She moaned and sank back against the pillows. "Get out of here," she said. "Get out! I want to think."

Super Superstitions

Hallowe'en, with its witches, black cats and dark omens, is in the air, but don't be afraid of these questions about superstitions. There are only five, not 13.

1. Where did the superstition that 13 is unlucky originate?
2. What day of the week is best for weddings?
3. To what event is the superstition about walking under a ladder traced?
4. What two things might be done with a horseshoe to bring good luck?
5. Where was the superstition born about three on a match being unlucky?

Military Honors Fail To Win Camacho Office

SOUTH AMERICAN military leaders often enjoy a dominant position in the political life of their country. Many ranking soldiers are also high governmental officials.

Bolivia has had many soldier-presidents. One of its most illustrious soldiers, however, Elodoro Camacho, was twice an unsuccessful candidate for the country's highest office.

Camacho, who was honored philatelically by his government in the 1902 stamp above, was a distinguished general. Born Nov. 14, 1831, in Inquisivi, he interrupted his legal studies at the University of San Simon in 1857 to join the Linares revolution.

He proved to be an outstanding soldier, was prevailed upon to make the army his career and after moving through the ranks became chief of staff under President Frias. When the latter was overthrown, Camacho was forced into exile, but three years later he returned to lead the Bolivian army in the war against Chile.

Leader of the liberal party, he was defeated as candidate for president in 1884 and 1892. He died Nov. 13, 1899.

Landing gears constructed for super-dreadnaughts of the air are tested in a tower built 35 feet high. Fitted to the tester on a special carriage loaded with pig lead, the landing gear is raised to a predetermined height and dropped. This test formerly requiring two hours can be completed in about four minutes.

Fall Accessories

The popular revival of the mid-century inspired this interesting one piece dress - which school girls from coast to coast have already made their favorite for the current season. The mid-century has everything, a turn-down collar with a tricky four-in-hand tie, a long torso line which is graceful on every figure. The skirt has the new dirndl fullness which makes it just right, too!

Pattern No. 8005 is designed for sizes 8 to 16 years. Size 10 mid-century requires 1½ yards 35-inch material, skirt with cuffs and tie.

This Weekend Should Break Big Six Hold

Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma Hold Monopoly At Present

By Charles Chamberlain
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 20.—(P)—The monopoly Nebraska, Oklahoma and Missouri hold atop observers' Big Six lists should be partially dissolved this week. It should take only one game to do it and that is Nebraska vs. Missouri at Columbia Saturday.

It is the first natural of the year, and although the season is yet young, the outcome has a strong bearing on the championship.

Miss Pitchin' Paul
Missouri probably will feel the loss of pitching Paul Christman more severely in this game than in any other. For as both teams whet their power plays, it looks more and more as if Nebraska will bow only before a superior passing attack.

Billy Hillenbrand's aerials broke Nebraska apart as Indiana won 21 to 13. He threatened out two for touchdowns in the third quarter, and the huskers went down for their first cut of the season.

Missouri's lack of a consistently accurate passer has brought about a new style of attack which is along the ground this year, a complete reversal from the past. The Tigers usually lineup in a T, shifting out of it into a single wing on keeping in it to create deception, and the result has been amazing.

Here is a Comparison
In two conference games, Missouri has made 74 points, a big job of them by beating Iowa State 39 to 13. If you believe in comparative scores, Nebraska defeated the Cyclones 14-0.

Missouri's trickery has bamboozled its foes more than once and has resulted in long runs. Bob Steuber scored on 28 and 70 yard dashes last week, and Bert Ekern darted 45 and Harry Ice 16 and 88. Six passes were tried, one completed, for 16 yards. But 437 net yards were made by rushing.

Oklahoma is not to sold short. The soomers, working wonders off their A formation, turned back Kansas State 16 to 0. State was primed for this one, gave its best showing of the year. Sophomore Joe Golding made the touchdowns.

Kansas was cracked by Marquette 33 to 7 with Denzel Gibbons scampering 40 yards for the only score after taking a pass from Harlan Altman.

The only other Big Six game Saturday should be airtight. Iowa State plays at Kansas—a warning for airplanes to look out for footbolls. The air should be crowded with them. Santa Clara, one of the nation's top teams, meets Oklahoma at Norman and the Sooners may be jarred so badly they might find it hard to get back in the conference groove. Kansas State has a long rest before facing Nebraska Nov. 1.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(The Special News Service)—You may see a pro football world series one of these years, but not until the American Leaguers show a lot better blocking than they did for Tom Harmon and John Kimbrough yesterday. . . . The question of the week is what sort of joy juice Minnesota and Michigan will find in the little brown jug Saturday. . . . Season's record long run—Notre Dame's new lightweight jerseys. Every time someone tried to tackle an Irishman by the shirt it started to run. Too much dye, the manufacturer explained. . . . Wonder how good Navy is? Well, Coach Swede Larson is raving about the way Joe Hunt uses his tennis footwork on the football field, changing direction without breaking his stride, but Joe is only a fourth-string back. . . . Tom Lieb asks if any good college would like to play Florida at Gainesville September 26 or November 28 next year. The Gators haven't filled those dates yet.

Today's Guest Star

Walter Stewart, Memphis Commercial Appeal: "Lou Nova is charging back toward another shot at the heavyweight championship—which is a bit like trying to set the world on fire by rubbing two wet sticks together."

Pro-Gran Notes

Jack McBride, the American coach, says it's a quarterback's dream to have Harmon and Kimbrough in the same backfield. . . . which may explain why some of McBride's quarterbacks seemed to be dreaming during yesterday's game. . . . Harmon, Jack added, was in fine shape but Jarring Jawn's legs tightened up. . . . showing the advantage of football movies over hoss operas. . . . Kimbrough, the cutie, claims pro football is easier than the college brand "because you don't play so much." . . . He should ask Mel Hein about that.

Service Dept.

Chattanooga U. has sent a whole football team of undergrads and alumni into the army, including a coach, trainer and manager, but they're scattered around in a lot of camps. . . . Boise air base claims to have the biggest service gridman, Private Tiny Crowe, who tips the beam at 290. . . . Walton (Whitey) McMullen, who played ball for Gainesville, Fla., Macon, Ga., and Saginaw, Mich., before he was drafted, says going into the army is just like going to a new ball club. He ought to know. . . . Latest issue of the Amateur Athletic, official A.A.U. publication, lists 10 A.A.U. and Inter-Collegiate champs who are in the armed forces, and would like to hear of any additions to the list.

Last Laugh

When Fred Haney, Toledo manager, was down in Tulsa for the Texas League playoffs, a stickup guy came along one night and demanded his dough. . . . Haney hauled out his checkbook and said, "Here, this is all I have." . . . The thug grabbed it and ran. . . . Telling about it later, Fred remarked longingly, "I wish he managed an American Association team. That's one guy I could beat."

National, Sectional, Football Titles At Stake This Week

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(P)—National, as well as sectional, football championship hopes will be at stake at Ann Arbor this week. There two powerful Western Conference machines, Minnesota's Gophers and Michigan's Wolverines, will collide in the most important test of the season to date.

Michigan's fourth successive victory, a thrilling 14-7 conquest of Northwestern last Saturday, found the Wolverine defense thoroughly tested, especially in the stages when Northwestern hammered away unceasingly in quest of an equalizing touchdown. Sophomore Tom Kuzma, like his predecessor, All-American Tom Harmon, a product of Gary, Ind., was Michigan's offensive star, tossing passes for both touchdowns.

Michigan Meets Minnesota

Michigan's defense was adequate nor Northwestern but whether it can halt Minnesota is a question that remains to be answered. The Gophers, beating Pitt in routine fashion, 9-30, scored their third successive victory this season and stretched their winning streak to 11 games in a row, spread over three campaigns. Minnesota hasn't been beaten since the next to last game on the Gophers' 1939 schedule when Iowa turned the trick, 13-9.

Northwestern's defeat blasted the Wildcats off the undefeated list along with Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth of the eastern "Ivy League." Rice, Baylor and Texas Christian of the Southwest Conference; Nebraska of the Big Six; and Colorado State of the Rocky Mountain Big Seven.

Unbeaten Teams

These casualties left the roll of major unbeaten teams at 22, three of which have been tied. Here's how they are spread geographically:

East: Army, Navy, Duquesne, Fordham, Villanova, Temple and Rutgers.
Middle West: Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio State, Notre Dame and Detroit.

South: Duke, Clemson, Vanderbilt, Georgia (tied) and Mississippi State (tied).

Southwest: Texas and Texas Aggies.

Far West: Santa Clara. Rocky Mountain: Utah (tied).

Most of this week's action will be concerted in the central states as this brief outline, by sections, demonstrates:

Midwest
Minnesota-Michigan clash tops the list but Ohio State, also a factor in the conference race, plays Northwestern in another important test. The Buckeyes tripped Purdue, 16-14 last week but found sound reason for concern in the fact that the Boilermakers came so close to overcoming a 16-0 deficit. Wisconsin and Indiana, both surprise winners last week, meet in another conference game as do Iowa and Purdue. Iowa lost 0-23, to Wisconsin. Indiana, after three straight defeats, stopped Nebraska, 2-13.

Notre Dame, disappointing in whipping weak Carnegie Tech, 16-0, tackles Illinois. Marquette, after a convincing 33-7 triumph over Kansas, entertains hard-bitten Duquesne. Detroit, which had a close 20-14 call with Oklahoma A. and M., meets Arkansas next.

Big Six Decision Saturday
The Big Six title probably will be decided at Columbia where Missouri, 39-13 conquerors of Iowa State, tackles Nebraska, defending titleholder. Kansas plays Iowa State in another conference tilt while Oklahoma, after a 16-0 victory over Kansas State, must race tough Santa Clara, which topped Michigan State, 7-0.

Southwest

Texas, which may well be the team of the year, and Texas A. and M. are the lone unbeaten survivors in this section. Texas, after a 49-14 rout of Arkansas, now has rolled up 156 points in four games against Colorado, Louisiana State, Oklahoma and Arkansas. The Longhorns now meet Rice, shockingly routed, 27-0 by Louisiana State just one week after the Owls had upset powerhouse Tulane. Texas A. and M., 14-0 victor over Texas Christian, meets Baylor beaten 14-6 by Villanova in a game which saw the Bears test their great back, Jack Wilson, by injury early in the fray.

South

Georgia and Alabama, meet in an important southwestern Conference duel. Georgia halted Columbia, 7-3, as Frank Sinkwich led the way, while Alabama, apparently in working order now, handed Tennessee a 9-2 beating. In other conference games, Tulane, which ran up an amazing 52-6 count on North Carolina tackles Mississippi, 21-0 conqueror of Holy Cross; Louisiana State meets Florida, nipped 13-12 by Maryland in a big upset; and Georgia Tech, whipped 14-7 by Vanderbilt, engages Auburn, stopped 10-7 by Southern Methodist. Vanderbilt, only unbeaten, untied team in the group, plays Princeton while Kentucky meets West Virginia.

The Southern Conference program is topped by unbeaten Clemson's duel with South Carolina on Thursday.

East

Such fixtures as Army-Columbia, Yale-Dartmouth, Harvard-Navy top the week's card. Columbia offers a definite threat to Army which ran its winning streak to three straight in a 20-7 conquest of Yale. Harvard, which engineered a stunning upset in whipping Dartmouth, 7-0, probably will be troublesome to undefeated Navy which was hard-pressed to stop Cornell, 14-0.

Of the other undefeated eastern outfits, Fordham which easily accounted for West Virginia, 27-0 plays Texas Christian; Penn, not overly impressive in a 23-0 triumph over Princeton, tackles Maryland; Villanova faces Manhattan, trounced 26-13 by Boston College; Temple, 14-0 victor over Penn State, meets Bucknell, while Rutgers heads straight into trouble in its match with Syracuse, easy 31-0 winner over New York University.

Pitt, which hasn't scored a point in three games with the Western Conference and has yielded 85, hardly figures to give Duke a workout. Other pairings in the east include Cornell and Colgate; Boston College and Georgetown; Holy Cross and New York University; and Lafayette and Brown.

Far West

A four-game conference program sends California against Southern California; Washington against Stanford; U. C. L. A. against Oregon and Washington State against Oregon State. Oregon, topping California, 19-7, leads the conference with three victories and one defeat. Washington, Stanford, Southern California and Oregon State all are tied for second with two victories and one loss. Southern California nipped Washington State 7-6, and Washington stopped U. C. L. A., 14-7, in other conference games.

Stanford won over San Francisco, 42-26.

Rocky Mountain
Utah, tied 6-6 by Brigham Young, plays Denver, 40-0 conqueror of Wyoming, in the chief conference game. Colorado, which snapped Colorado State's winning streak, 26-13, plays Wyoming. Colorado State faces Utah State, beaten 16-0 by Idaho.

Wichita Open Added To Craig Wood's List

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 20.—(P)—Craig Wood, U. S. open champion, added the $3,000 Wichita Open to his list of 1941 conquests by shooting 284 for the 72-hole tourney. It was worth $750 to him.

Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., Ed Wysowski, Kewanee, Ill., and Henry Picard, Oklahoma City, had 285's. Wysowski blew a chance to win by taking a 7 on the final hole.

Tied behind them at 286 were Dutch Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., and Leland Gibson, Kansas City. Horton Smith, Chicopee, Mass., finished with 287.
